The Centers for Medicare and Medicaid have completed a massive overhaul of requirements for participation, make sure your long-term care facility is in full compliance, and your staff has a full understanding, as new policies and updates are phased in. Includes new requirements for: QAPI, compliance and ethics, antibiotic stewardship, annual resource assessment, and person-centered care planning.

About Susan Harris:

Ms. Harris was on the education task force at Leading Age New Jersey and has served as a member of the Public Policy Congress for Leading Age National. She has spoken at the White House on senior care issues and has been providing training and education in this field for more than 20 years. She served as a consultant to CMS on a work panel that revised the regulations and surveyor guidance for the Activity and Activity Director F-Tags; and she wrote and provided training on these regulations through a CMS satellite training program for state surveyors throughout the US.
